The Nassau County Museum of Art Has The Blues

"The Huxley Guide to Switzerland" by Christopher Winter

By VICTORIA CROSBY
The Nassau County Museum of Art was planning a preview of their new exhibit Blue, on March 13, when it was shut down due to the Corona Virus. The exhibit is on until July 5, but in the event that it hasn't opened by then, you can go on a virtual tour on the museum website, led by the Museum Director, Charles Riley.

The color blue is most popular with artists and musicians, poets, designers filmmakers, and many other forms of expression. The Pantone Color Institute chose classic blue as the color of 2020.

This exhibit includes, paintings, photographs, ceramics, fashion, sculpture, and more. In the words of Charles Riley the museum is "a multi-media exploration of blue in many incarnations."

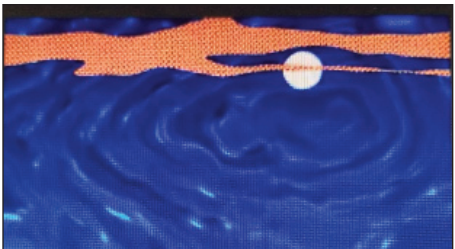

Riley also includes a quote from the artist Miro, who said, "This is the color of my dreams."

The exhibit spans history and geography and includes cabinets filled with semi-precious lapis lazuli, which in ancient times was prized by royal families and mystics. It's now used in Feng Shui as an element of healing. Blue is the color of the sky and the sea, and is known as a sacred or holy color, as in Sacred Blue, or Sacre Bleu in French, is both a color of paint, supposedly named for the cloak of the Virgin Mary, and a curse word derived from Sacre Dieu, Holy God, which is taking God's name in vain, so the color, which rhymed with Dieu, was substituted.

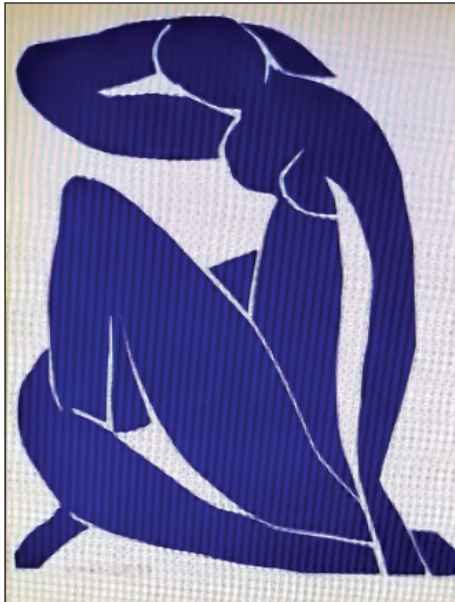

Artists in the exhibit include Picasso, Miro, Roy Lichtenstein and many others.

Lectures and dance performances had been scheduled, but are postponed for the duration. The Museum Ball, is always fabulous event, and an important fundraiser for the museum, has also been postponed.

Although the museum is closed, the ground are open for walking and viewing the many sculptures, as long as you observe social distancing. View the Blue exhibit at www.nassaumuseum.org.

Loafers Bakery Gives Back

Glen Cove Hospital workers very thankful for the delicious soups.

Loafers Bakery in Locust Valley has sent over 50 pints of soup for the front-line workers at the Glen Cove Hospital. The gourmet bakery is hoping that their soups will give them just a few comforting moments while they fight this horrible disease. Soup warms you from the inside out and can hopefully help them relax for five minutes.

We just want them to know how appreciated they are, and that they are our heroes, standing side by side, staying so strong on the frontlines of this battle.

Owner Lauren Foley stated "Being part of a local community and helping out in one small way, makes us feel like we are not helpless. "We are all in this together and together we will get through this trying time !"

Loafers soups came with a heartfelt message.

Huntington Old Town Hall Hotel a “Go”

The Huntington Town Board has approved the rehabilitation and conversion project for the long-vacant, but historic, Old Town Hall. The building, on Main Street and Stewart Avenue, is to be converted into an 80 room boutique downtown hotel. The hotel will operate under a Hilton-Hampton Inn franchise.

The Town Board voted at its March meeting for development approval. Construction crews have already started clearing the lot and grounds for the much-anticipated project.

The Old Town Hall served as the seat of Huntington's town government from 1910 to 1979, when the current Town Hall complex was built 1/4 mile further east on Main Street. The Old Town Hall building is on the National Register of Historic Places, and anchors the east end of the Huntington village downtown area, right across from the historic Cemetery.

A member of the town's Historic Preservation Commission, Elissa Kyle, praised the plan, stating that “Visitors to the hotel will be more likely to patronize nearby shops and restaurants than if they were staying at a hotel outside of the downtown.”

The Old Town Hall property was purchased in 2018 by a group headed by George Tsunis, a Cold Spring Harbor resident. Tsunis is from a prominent local business family, and serves as the chair Chartwell Hotels. Tsunis has also served as Chairman of the Board of the Nassau County Medical Center, and was once a candidate for Suffolk County Legislature.

The development of the Old Town Hall Hotel is expected to have a construction budget of $24 million, generate at least 100 construction jobs, and to have 15 full time hotel staff. The current building of the Old Town Hall will be converted into a hotel lobby, dining room and gym, and an adjacent 54,000 square foot new building will be constructed along Stewart Avenue, with the 80 rooms on three floors. Construction is expected to begin immediately.

Huntington Marinas Reopening

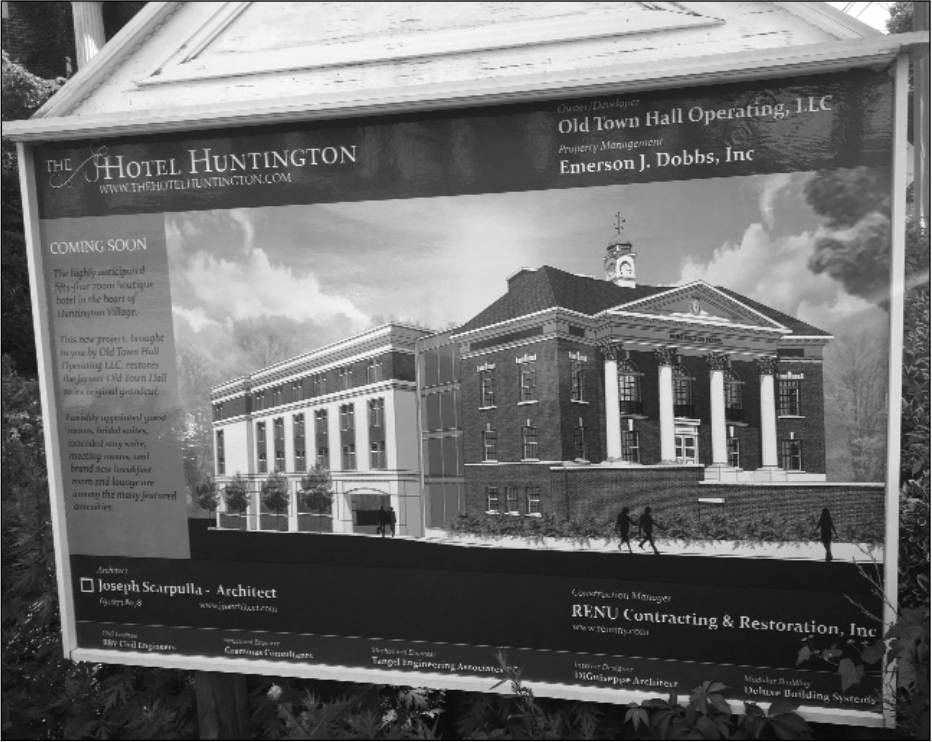

The Mill Dam Marina on Mill Dam Road.

“The opening of marinas and boat ramps is good news for boaters,” exclaimed Huntington Supervisor Chad Lupinacci, as the Corona shutdown began to ease. Halestite Marina on New York Avenue and Mill Dam Marina on Mill Dam Road, both in Halesite, are now open and serving the public. The marinas are being provided launch service by the Gold Star Motorized Boat Launch.

Lupinacci asked boaters to continue to exercise social distancing and to “wear a mask when you cannot distance yourself from others.” The Huntington Harbormaster is taking mooring applications by mail and can be contacted by e-mail at harbormaster@huntingtonny.gov.

Oyster Bay Opens Golf Courses

New York State has authorized marinas and boat ramps to reopen. The State has reopened its golf courses, including the courses at Bethpage State Park.

The Town’s Golf Course and Driving Range in Woodbury reopened on Friday, April 24th without the use of golf carts. The course is open Tuesdays – Sundays, with the first tee time at 7am and last tee time at 3:56pm.

Twilight golf takes place Tuesdays – Sundays, from 4pm to 5pm. Both golfers and boaters must obey strict social distancing and sanitization protocols. No night fishing is permitted at TOBAY Beach at this time.

Newsday Gets $10 Million in US Govt PPP Funds

Newsday, the liberal daily newspaper based in Melville, has received $10 million in US government funds making it one of the largest single recipients of government Corona funding on Long Island. The first round of the Payroll Protection Program ("PPP") funding - over $400 billion, has been widely criticized as being steered to the "preferred customers" of the banks administering the program.

In 2008, Cablevision corporation, then owned by Charles Dolan of Oyster Bay, purchased Newsday for $650 million. In 2015, Dolan sold all of Cablevision, including Newsday, to the Netherlands-based Altice corporation for $17 billion. The next year, Altice sold back its ownership interest in Newsday to Dolan, and his son, Patrick Dolan, who is now Newsday's CEO.

Over 90% of small businesses received nothing from the first round of the PPP program, before its funding was consumed in a little over a week. The US government has now passed a second round of PPP funding. According to Newsday, the print newspaper has an average daily circulation of 156,224 papers.

Beyond 1984:
The Scientific Illiteracy and Fascism of Cuomo’s “Contact Tracing”

Last week Gov Andrew Cuomo announced a new multi-billion dollar plan - started with a $10 million gift from Mike Bloomberg - to start "contact tracing" New Yorkers. The government will hire 100,000 “trackers” to use home visits, cell phone GPS location data - and tips from anonymous sources - to identify people “suspected” of being exposed to Corona. The Contact Tracers will then have the power to arrest, quarantine, isolate, medically test, and shut down all social interaction with anybody “suspected” of being exposed.

The first problem is that the plan is useless. Corona is hyper-contagious: You can catch it from touching exposed surfaces; others sneezing in the next aisle in the supermarket; bad ventilation ducts, or a thousand other ways. Testing shows that nearly 30% of NYC residents and Long Islanders have already been exposed.

Most people have no idea how they caught it. At a State Prison in Marion, Ohio, where 2,028 out of 2,300 prisoners tested positive last week - and 95% of those showed no symptoms - the Warden had “no idea” how Corona entered and spread through the prison. If “contact tracing” doesn't work in a prison, then how can it work among a dynamic mobile population ?

Corona is especially untrackable. It spreads too easily to be tracked, and most infected people show no symptoms.

The other big issue is the huge danger to our freedom. Do we really want to give the government the vast power to “contact track” every interpersonal relationship and interaction - using our cell phones and 100,000 new government agents as spies - to see who we are having lunch with, or meeting with, or talking to ?

And then lock-up people "suspected" of being exposed - which is already 30% of the population. Isn't this exactly the nightmare that George Orwell wrote about in “1984.”

Anyone who cares about our freedom needs to speak and act now to stop “Contact Tracing.” It is medically useless, scientifically illiterate, and blatantly fascist.

“DO GOOD TO FEEL GOOD.”

To the Editor:

A couple of weeks ago, with the fear and uncertainty lying before us regarding the COVID-19 pandemic, my husband and I, like many others, were feeling rather down. To combat this, we reinvigorated a program we started before the winter holidays called, “Do Good to Feel Good.” And it’s worked for us!

There’s no better way to lift your spirit than when you do something to help someone else, and the time is NOW when a lot of people have less income, and NOW is when those in medical-related fields are putting their lives on the line for us. In the past month, we’ve been able to deliver nearly 900 cases of food to Glen Cove and its surrounding community. We’ve been able to help feed seniors with direct delivery to homes, and low-income residents through the First Baptist Church’s soup kitchen as well as with direct delivery. I had never been involved with the school district food pantry other than with donations in the past, but last week I made a plea online to the Glen Cove Neighbors Facebook page since the pantry was shorthanded that week when Island Harvest couldn’t deliver their usual supply. This plea for support received such an outpouring of food and monetary donations that the pantry was able to be re-stocked, and hundreds of pounds of protein, and 100 cases of eggs were able to be purchased. “Do Good to Feel Good” has also been able to show our appreciation with cases of snacks to Glen Cove Hospital, the Department of Public Works, several police, fire and EMS departments, several pharmacies, urgent care centers, and others.

Our main sponsor is JAG Specialty Foods through my husband, John Ferrante, and his two business partners, former Glen Cove resident Gregg DeSantis and an anonymous current one. Although Gregg lives further out east now, his heart is still r donors include John and Carmine Falcone of Falcone Bakery, Tim Sullivan of Silver Spring Gardens, Dr. Patty Tager of New Jersey, and several other cookie manufacturers who prefer to be anonymous. I’d also like to thank County Legislator Delia DeRiggi-Whitton and Toni Kessel who are organizing a lot of our deliveries to the senior citizens, and to Mary Stanco and Fay Mihos of Berkshire Hathaway Laffey International’s Grab and Go snack program for organizing our deliveries to the hospital. Others who have helped us, in particular, include Reverend Roger Williams, the Fazzalari family, the Yee family, and Mike Cervini from Glen Cove.

As long as you can do it in a safe and socially distant manner, my husband and I hope that we are inspiring more of you to reach out to your neighbors and “Do Good to Feel Good!”

Dr. Eve Lupenko Ferrante,
Glen Cove
City Councilwoman

THANK YOU

To the Editor:

The joy in part of our Auctions are face to face meeting with clients be it consignor or buyer. At the end of the day we facilitate many things from closure of an estate or making room for a new coming child to adding that special artwork or unique item of jewelry to one's collection.

Something I never thought of was facilitating that personalized relationship at times called covid19. Thanks to the workers at those companies at UPS, FedEx etc who have facilitated transfer of personal effects people have been keeping thier minds nourished by the way Roland Auctions facilitates thier needs.

In addition to the above mentioned much needed money is made available to sellers thru the charmed buyers hearts acquiring new property. Its a nice feeling knowing that age old saying one hand washing the other in old fashioned way using new online techniques. Myself not easily sure what or how it all works am overjoyed to understand the new and the old enough to appreciate that social distance is staying together from afar.

Stay safe and healthy and please continue to email your questions and comments (with photos) to Bill@rolandantiques. Com

Dr. Cosgrove Reports on Glen Cove Hospital

Glen Cove Hospital has played a major role in caring for our community for the last century and especially during the Covid-19 pandemic. It is certainly one of the most challenging public health crises the world has faced in the last 100 years and we have faced it head on.

During this challenge and right into today Glen Cove has been there providing intensive care, operating room services, ER and med- surg care. Our leadership team of Kerri Scanlon, RN President and CEO and Brad Sherman, MD Chief Medical Officer have provided our staff with everything we need to ensure the safety of our patients and staff. We never had a problem obtaining PPE (personal protective equipment), medications, staffing etc.

In fact, we also became a place for the Northwell Health System to send cancer cases for timely surgical care. The Northwell Cancer Institute led by Richard Barakat, MD and Matthew Weiss, MD worked with the Glen Cove Leadership to identify patients needing cancer surgery. Our team at Glen Cove and our Northwell surgeons got those patients operated on in a safe fashion and back to their medical doctors for timely chemo and radiation therapy.

John M. Cosgrove, MD FACS

In addition, the hospital has provided counseling and other services for patients and families. As there is a strict no visitor policy to keep everyone safe, our staff helped patients “FaceTime”, zoom etc. with their loved ones.

The community merchants especially the restaurants, delis, catering services etc. have gone over the top in supplying many, many meals, and other supplies. Congressman Tom Suozzi has been tireless in his support of Glen Cove Hospital. Mayor Temke arranged for the Fire Department to pay tribute to our great staff among other nice gestures.

I am very proud to be surgeon at Glen Cove Hospital. It is my honor to lead the department and dedicated staff through the unknown times ahead. I’d just like to add that we have a very proud surgical tradition here at Glen Cove and between our staff here and our Northwell System resources there is not any problem that we cannot address safely.

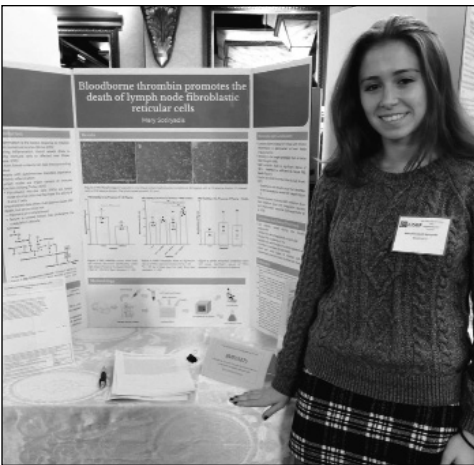

Thank you.
John M. Cosgrove, MD FACS
Chairman of Surgery
Director of Surgical Services
Northwell Glen Cove Hospital

NS High School Senior Named 2020 Regeneron ISEF Finalist

Congratulations North Shore High School senior, Mary Sotiryadis, who was named a 2020 Regeneron ISEF Finalist. Mary spent her entire summer in a lab at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City working behind a hood to protect the precious cells that she was experimenting on. Each day she checked to make sure they were healthy and regularly provided the cells with all the nutrients they needed to thrive. These cells would be the key to unraveling the role of blood components in patients suffering from chronic inflammation. By the end of the summer, Mary had discovered the major protein responsible for tissue damage during the inflammatory response. Her findings can lead to major drug discoveries for disorders such as lupus or rheumatoid arthritis.

In early April, Mary presented her project virtually in the New York State Science and Engineering Fair (NYSSEF). After making it through the first round, she was invited to compete in a "lightening round" where a panel of professional scientists questioned her on the details of her research project and its implications. Ultimately, her work was named a top project in her category-Biomedical Engineering and Health Sciences- and has earned her a spot in the International Science and Engineering Fair (ISEF).

Each year Regeneron ISEF hosts approximately 1,800 students that have advanced from their regional fairs in over 75 different countries or territories. Students are awarded nearly $5 million dollars in prize money to the top 600 teams and individuals, including a top prize of $75,000. Special awards are also distributed for scholarships, summer internships, scientific trips or equipment. Unfortunately, this year's all-expense paid ISEF trip to Anaheim, California, scheduled for May has been canceled due to COVID-19. Although Mary currently awaits news regarding her prizes, she has received her biggest reward that includes helping the medical community with a major discovery and an overall incredible research experience.

Mary said, “I have not only had the opportunity to explore a new and exciting field of science, but have also learned a lot about myself and how to work hard and be responsible.” Dr. Molly Mordechai, North Shore High School Science Research Teacher said, “I am extremely proud of Mary's accomplishment. She is an intelligent and hardworking student who truly deserves this recognition. North Shore High School is very proud of Mary's success and we are all very excited to see what is in store for her next!”

Bayville Strong

By PATRICIA BREXEL

The Bayville Beautification Committee had 350 “Bayville Strong” signs made for a fundraiser. The Signs we sold for $20.00 each, and the proceeds from the sales went to Bayville Cares. The Bayville Cares organization will use the money to help needy families in Bayville.

The sale was such a success that the signs quickly sold out. Bayville is a tight knit community that always steps up to the plate when there is a need.

GRENVILLE BAKER
BOYS & GIRLS CLUB

MY HOPE

It’s been more than a month since our kids last spent time afterschool at the Club’s off-site locations in Bayville, Locust Valley and Glen Cove.

When I think about the last few weeks, we are all experiencing a new normal. The list of what we need like food to eat and a roof over our heads, now includes hand sanitizer and face masks. We are staying home from work to protect ourselves, our co-workers, and our families and, if our jobs allow, to work remotely from home. This can be a lonely time for some and a time when we miss so much in our everyday lives. But it is also a time to feel thankful.

As a community and as a nation, we have reached out to thank with words, sirens, signs or applause all those who can’t hunker down and who wear their face masks to work with such courage and determination to serve those in need, fighting to save lives. I have learned to stay socially distant (six feet apart!) and to wash my hands like a surgeon preparing for surgery. I have learned to grocery shop, navigating the aisles to avoid coming too close to the other customers, and thanking the green grocer, the deli staff, and the cashiers for risking exposure so we can eat well during quarantine. I’ve learned to order whatever else I need on-line, thanking all those Amazon workers, postal employees and delivery personnel for their hard work and long hours.

My hope is that when we all eventually get back to work and school and the Club, and we once again get to see those kids running off the bus after school, that we make time for a moment of reflection. Unfortunately , we lost two people close to our family at Grenville Baker to this terrible virus: our very own Hector Rosario who had been part of our building maintenance team for the past 4 ½ years and Ed Campanella, the CEO of All Building Construction, the company that is working on our building project. Both of these men will be sorely missed, our prayers are with them and their families. We will stop a moment to remember a doctor or a nurse, or a virus survivor or a virus victim’s family, or some other hero who made a difference when we needed them the most. Finally, after all the time spent at home, we will appreciate and be so grateful to all those who helped us get there.

We will be so joyful when our kids take out their notebooks, pencils and assignments, when we hear their greetings and their laughter, when they find their seat next to a friend and take a first bite of their snack. We will heave a sigh of thankful relief that we are back. That our staff can continue to do what they are so good at doing: helping our kids with their homework, listening to them talk about their day, taking time to celebrate, to sympathize, to care. What a wonderful day that will be.

That’s what I’m hoping for and yet we have to be patient; it cannot happen before its time. Stay safe.

Gribbin Elementary Kicks Off
Virtual Secret Reader Program

Students drew photos for Principal Francine Santoro depicting how they will stay healthy and happy while distance learning continues.
Photos: GCCSD

Eugene Gribbin Elementary School students kicked off a special distance learning program last month. Beginning on April 6, students received a clue each day to help them guess who would be reading a story to them on a video conference at the end of the week.

As the students signed online with their best guesses ready to go, they greeted each other, their teachers, and shortly after, Gribbin School Principal Francine Santoro joined in to surprise the students.

After reading the story “I can handle it” by Laurie Write, Santoro interacted with students and reminded them how important reading is to their education. She then tasked students to draw a picture of how they will work hard to stay healthy and happy while they are home from school.

“We are a big family at Gribbin, we all work together for the benefit of the students,” said Santoro. “The secret reader program is a lot of fun for everyone, but what it really aims to do bring us all together as a school each week and remind our students that we are here for them.”

The secret reader project is hosted by the Gribbin Elementary PTA and has featured Gribbin faculty and staff including custodian Albert Plude, music teacher JoAnn Criblez, AIS math teacher, Michael Battaglia and STREAM teacher Jessica McKenna.

TILGHMAN, Nancy Clarice Hoguet passed away on April 11, 2020 in her home in Locust Valley. She was 59. Nancy was born in Princeton, New Jersey to Gwendoline von Rothschild and Roland Hoguet. Her maternal grandparents, Baron Alfons and Baroness Clarice von Rothschild of the Austrian banking family moved to New York following the "Anschluss", the March 12, 1938 annexation of Austria into Nazi Germany. Her paternal grandfather, Dr. Joseph Peter Hoguet, was a prominent surgeon at the Hospital for the Ruptured and Crippled (presently the Hospital of Special Surgery), Professor of Surgery at Cornell, a member of the French Hospital, and consultant at the North Country Community Hospital of Glen Cove.

Upon graduating from Barnard College, Nancy pursued a career in journalism as a CNN field producer and writer and subsequently as a New York Times freelance writer covering society, arts, education and the environment. Later she helped launch the Huffington Post's New York vertical.

Inheriting her mother's family's passion for art, she received a Master's in Contemporary Art from the Sotheby's Institute; thereafter working at Sotheby's Client Services, assisting German and French speaking clients to enhance their art collections. She received her Botanical Art and Illustration Certification at the New York Botanical Garden. Nancy was a gifted water colorist in her own right, and well known for her elegant taste and creativity.

Her love of nature stemmed from her time in Langau, the family's former Austrian hunting estate, where as soon as she could walk, she prowled the forests, mountains and valleys. It was there she shared some of the happiest moments with her family and with great joy also her Austrian friends and those from around the world.

A New York City resident, Nancy was a member of the Colony Club, Piping Rock Club, Bathing Corporation of Southampton and the Meadow Club.

She served on the Women and Foreign Policy Program Advisory Council at the Council on Foreign Relations and co-founded "Women's Partnership for Science" at the Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory.

Nancy will always be remembered as a force of nature. She loved her children deeply. The passionate loyalty she felt for her family and friends was fueled by her generosity, curiosity, and her sparkling enthusiasm that was contagious at social occasions and in private conversations alike. Her humor was infectious, and her laughter could be heard from miles away. She will be deeply missed.

Nancy is survived by her three children, Gwendoline, George and Henry Tilghman; partner Walter Terry; brother Geoffrey Hoguet and sister in law, Annalu Ponti; and the many for whom she was an irreplaceable spirit in their lives.

A memorial service will be held at a later date when we can all come together to celebrate Nancy's extraordinary life.

In lieu of flowers, please donate in her name to Memorial Sloan Kettering, The Boys and Girls Club of America, or Fountain House – all of which Nancy supported throughout her lifetime.

QUINONES, Edgar "Eddie" – on Apr. 23, 2020, age 24, of Brooklyn, NY, formerly of Locust Valley, NY. Beloved son of Egar Quinones and Claudia Casado. Loving brother of Shanelly Blanco, and Anthony Blanco. Cherished grandson of Joe and Yolanda Delgado. Dear nephew of Beatriz and Richard Fraschilla. Also survived by many loving cousins and friends. VILLAGE OF LATTINGTOWN
BOARD OF ZONING APPEALS
PUBLIC NOTICE

A public hearing will be held by and before the Board of Zoning Appeals of the Incorporated Village of Lattingtown, Nassau County, New York, on May 27, 2020 at 7:30 p.m., either in-person at the Village Hall – 299 Lattingtown Road in the Village, or by Zoom Videoconference in accordance with Executive Order 202.2. If the meeting is to be held by Zoom videoconference, the Zoom link for the hearing will be posted on the Village of Lattingtown’s Website <https://www.villageoflattingtown.org/> prior to the day of the hearing. Public participation at the Village hearing will be announced during the hearing if the hearing is conducted via videoconference.

The hearing will be on the appeal of Gillian Shepherd and Eduardo G. Mestre and Gillian M. Shepherd, as Trustees of the Eduardo G. Mestre 2003 Qualified Personal Residence Trust, and Gillian M. Shepherd and Eduardo G. Mestre, as Trustees of the Gillian M. Shepherd 2003 Qualified Personal Residence Trust, owner of the properties located at 10 Millford Drive in the Village, also known as Section 29, Block 78, Lot 23 on the Nassau County Land and Tax Map, and 1 Factory Pond Road, also known as Section 29, Block 78, Lot 25 on the Nassau County Land and Tax Map, and both located in the Village’s R-4A (4-acre) zoning district.

In connection with an application to permit a lot line exchange transferring 0.67 acres from Lot 23 to Lot 25, which would result in the reduction of the lot area of Lot 23 from 2.0 acres to 1.33 acres rather than the required 4.00 acres, thus requiring a variance, the Appellants also seek the following variances which result from the transfer:

1. Principal building area of 4.54% of the new lot area, rather than the maximum permitted 4% of lot area;
2. Maximum building area of 22.23% of the new lot area, rather than the maximum permitted 20% of lot area.

The Appellants also seek the following variances which do not result from the proposed lot line exchange:

1. To maintain an existing garage with covered storage which has a westerly side yard setback of 4.9 feet to the covered storage area rather than the required 80 feet, and 14.9 feet to the garage, rather than the 25 feet required at the time the building permit for the garage was issued;
2. To maintain an existing swimming pool patio which has a westerly side yard setback of 25.4 feet rather than the required 80 feet;
3. To maintain existing swimming pool equipment which has a westerly side yard setback of 19.9 feet rather than the required 80 feet;
4. To maintain an existing inground swimming pool which has a westerly side yard setback of 42.6 feet rather than the required 80 feet;
5. To maintain an existing patio which has a westerly side yard setback of 21.3 feet rather than the required 80 feet;

This above appeal and supporting documents can be obtained by contacting the Attorneys for the Village at kfrey@humeswagner.com. All persons interested maybe on the videoconference of this meeting. Finley Middle School Student Sews Masks for Healthcare Workers

Robert M. Finley Middle School eighth grader Virginia Graziosi is using her time away from school to contribute to the community. When she was not doing schoolwork, she wanted to help the local medical staff at Glen Cove Hospital and started sewing reusable cloth masks.

"Being at home inspired me to help in any way I could," said Graziosi. "So, I gathered supplies and started sewing."

Rosella Graziosi, Virginia's mother, said, "she received the sewing machine as a gift, and taught herself to sew watching videos on YouTube, but only started using it more until she knew the difference she could make with it."

In total, Virginia sewed 50 masks. While Virginia and her mother originally planned to drop the masks off at the Nassau County Public Safety Parking lot, her aunt, who works in the radiology department at Glen Cove Hospital, suggested donating the masks to the local hospital.

The cotton masks are often worn over disposable surgical masks and N95s, extending their wear-time for healthcare workers who have been reusing their PPE while caring for COVID-19 patients.

"It is so gratifying to know that we could help our Glen Cove community. We are so thankful for everything our essential workers are doing to keep us safe during these strange and uncertain times," Virginia said.
